They're home. You're home... How did we get here??? At the very least, it's safe to say, our lives have changed considerably. Most students have been removed from the familiarity of the classroom and are grappling with new, and previously uncharted, remote learning. As a result, they're feeling somewhat disconnected, but they still need their credits. They also need continued support with, and access to, Social-Emotional Education and Development.

That's why BASE Education is stepping up to lend support. We're not here to sell you anything, we're just a bunch of mental health and education professionals who want to GIVE you our tools!!

Why should you utilize BASE Education with your students? Because the program is awesome, the students like it, and it brings people together. How does BASE benefit your students? By working through the material, young people gain access to knowledge about themselves and others and learn equitable skills that will advance awareness and empowerment for a lifetime. Finally, BASE courses have been clinically developed by professionals with decades of combined experience working with students much like yours.

While the BASE curriculum is designed to be used by educators within school districts, we have acknowledged the need for this material outside the traditional classroom, and we want to GIVE your family the same support we've been giving educational organizations during this challenging time.

In an effort to meet this emerging need, BASE has launched a new course to educate students and guide them through the current days of uncertainty - The Coronavirus (COVID-19) Course.

The course content includes:

- What is the Coronavirus and how does it affect us?
- How does it spread, and how do we contain it?
- Staying healthy mentally and physically at home
- The how and the why of maintaining respectful behavior in these strange times
- Reinforcing the knowledge that this is a temporary situation, normalcy will return

To access the COVID-19 course, simply direct your student to the BASE student portal course.base.education and provide them with the following login credentials:

- a. Username – covid19
- b. Password – covid19

As updates on the situation change by the day- even by the hour, BASE Education will ensure that student information is up to date and accurate.

Through social distancing and online practices, we can continue to reach our nation's young people, and in so doing, we can continue to influence and support them.

Supporting students remains our utmost priority, therefore, we consider it a privilege to be a part of your journey. Thank you for all you do. Hang in there, we will make it through this together.

Sincerely,

Robin Glenn MA, LPC, CSC, CAC
